ABOUT HURTWOOD

Hurtwood House is an independent school specialising in the sixth form; our unique blend of the creative and academic prepares students for university and life beyond.

We have an academic record of which we are truly proud, with over 20 subjects being studied at A Level, all achieving strong results with our mixed ability intake. We are able to achieve this success because we invest in subject specialists, prioritise teaching and learning above all else and spend time creating partnerships between teachers and students out of which grow professional satisfaction and academic success.

The other defining feature of Hurtwood House is its creativity. We are a centre of excellence for the performing and creative arts, providing outstanding opportunities for the aspiring actor, singer, artist, fashion designer, composer and film maker, both in the A Level courses and in specially arranged and professionally organised activities. These include our Acting and Dance Companies, Art Master Classes, Film Academy, our concerts and our drama productions.

This culture of creativity, originality and professionalism permeates the school and, because it is important to us that we provide a complete and broad education, we put a great deal of emphasis on personal development, preparing our students for university and, more importantly, the challenges of life beyond.

Hurtwood House is one of England's most exciting and successful schools – driven by academic excellence and a passion for creativity.

MATHS

Hurtwood House is looking for an enthusiastic and dynamic teacher to expand our strong Mathematics team in September 2026. It is a high achieving department looking to build on its success in delivering first class Maths teaching to students from the UK and around the world. The teaching team currently consists of five highly experienced members of staff, many of whom are fluent in all branches of the subject. We have six specialised rooms and enjoy all the resources and funding that would be expected of a successful department.

We offer IGCSE Mathematics and A Level courses in both Mathematics and Further Mathematics; our Further Mathematics programme of study currently includes the Mechanics and Decision Maths options. The department follows the Edexcel (Pearson) A Level courses and these are examined at the end of the second year.

Extension learning is available to high achieving students, along with STEP and MAT classes if required for university entrance; Maths clinics are offered to students who have fallen behind or who are in need of additional support. Results underline the strength of the department's teaching. In June 2025, 85% of students in Mathematics and 100% of students in Further Mathematics achieved A*-B grades. We enjoy the full backing of the school in pursuing outside events such as the Maths Challenge in which students regularly qualify for the follow on rounds.

DRIVEN BY ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE AND A PASSION FOR CREATIVITY

Hurtwood House operates a flexible policy in student admission and the mixed ability intake contains many students who are studying and writing in their second language.

Group sizes are small, with an average of twelve students per class. An enthusiastic, dynamic and ambitious teacher should expect a challenging but highly rewarding experience by joining the team from September 2026.

BOARDING AND PASTORAL

As a largely residential school our primary concern is to provide students with a safe, structured, caring and happy community. That is why we place so much emphasis on our House structure.

Students board in one of five country houses or their lodges, some of which are on the campus and some nearby. Each House has a Housemaster or Housemistress (HsM) who lives in and a team of House Tutors. The HsM is the link between the school, the student and parents and is the first point of contact on all academic and pastoral matters.

The House teams are responsible for looking after the students, for monitoring academic progress, for providing guidance and for creating a warm, supportive and organised family unit and what we like to think of as a sense of 'structured informality'. One minute you could be playing pool with a group of students in the house Common Room, the next supervising prep time to ensure that all students stay on top of their work. The atmosphere in the boarding houses is lively, collegiate and purposeful; there's rarely a dull moment.

All full-time staff are assigned to one of the boarding houses as academic tutors who take responsibility for a small tutor group, meeting them on a Monday evening. Some staff choose to be full tutors, assisting the HsM in the running of the boarding environment by doing evening and weekend duties in the House. An additional allowance is paid for these duties.

At its best, boarding at Hurtwood House is about relationships. Boarding houses are places where academic focus, creativity, laughter and conversation coexist, and where our students learn to live independently while knowing that there is always an adult close at hand. For staff, being part of a House means becoming part of a community that extends well beyond the classroom – one built on trust, professionalism and a shared commitment to helping students flourish, both academically and personally.
